Industries We Serve

Pipelines — Oil, Gas & Water

We design and deliver cathodic protection systems for buried and above-ground pipelines across oil, gas, and water distribution networks — combining impressed current and sacrificial anode solutions with ongoing monitoring to keep your lines compliant and operational.

Government & Defense Facilities

Cathtect USA holds an active CAGE Code (8EBY3), UEI (FJ8LT957WV99), and full NAICS registration.

Federal and defense infrastructure demands a CP partner with the credentials, documentation capability, and technical rigor to operate in high-compliance environments.

Marine Structures — Ports, Seawalls & Vessels

Docks, seawalls, sheet pile structures, bridges, and vessels require CP systems designed specifically for immersed and splash zone environments, where electrochemical activity is constant and failure consequences are severe.

Concrete Structures — Commercial & Residential

Rebar corrosion causes structural degradation in parking garages, hotels, condominiums, pools, and bridges — often going undetected until significant damage has occurred. We provide cathodic protection and corrosion inhibitor solutions for concrete structures, extending structural life and reducing costly remediation.

Ports & Large-Scale Commercial Infrastructure

Large commercial port operations require CP systems that cover extensive rectifier networks, remote monitoring across distributed assets, and ongoing maintenance support across high-utilization facilities.

Storage Tanks — Above Ground, Buried & Fuel

We provide cathodic protection design, installation, testing, and maintenance for steel tanks across fuel storage, water utilities, and industrial applications along with professional reporting that satisfies regulatory and environmental compliance requirements.
